RARL OF CARLISLE'S DIARY.

Diary of Turkish and Greek Writers, by the Right Hon. the Earl of Carlisle, edited by C. C. Felton, Greek Professor in Harvard University. The noble Earl is well and favorably known in this country, having travelled here while he bore the title of Lord Morpeth, and his work will be read with great interest by all who have devoted any attention to the mighty events which are now taking place in the Eastern World. The period embraced in his journal is one of deep significance, being at the very commencement of hostilities, and the persons introduced have since played eminent parts in this terrible historical tragedy. Professor Felton has added full and copious notes to the American edition, and the work is beautifully illustrated. It will hereafter be regarded as a valuable, historical record of this in Just published and for sale by PECKERS PARINA, prepared expressly tor families, a delicate and appropriate food for all seasons, and one of the most economical, nutritious, and wholesome preparations ever brought to the table, eminently combining the gratification of the palate with ample and healthful sustenance of the body.

Strictly speaking, Heckers' Farina is neither stringent nor laxative, but restorative, strengening the digestive and absorbent system. In disordered bowels, diarrhae, dysentery, and even in cases of cholera, when food is deemed admissible by the physicians, Heckers' Farina cannot fail to be salutary; and wherever known is extensively used in hospitals and private practice. The preservation of health or the prevention of sickness is at least as important as the curing of disease People in health should therefore use Heckers Farina freely, as common food, to preserve the in estimable blessing.
